

The Word, Seed, and Creation

Before anyone can understand the way the Law of Creation of Form and the Life in it work, he must understand two things. First, the seed out of which all things are created is first an Atom. It is then an idea. A thought follows, then the sound of a spoken word, and then the “visible seed” appears. The vibration of Life in the Atom gives light to the idea and sound to the thought.

Second, a thought is a spiritual “seed” -- whether it is a “good” thought or an “evil” thought. The vibration of Intelligent Life in the body of an Atom is the source of an idea. When the idea appears, it produces light and sound by its vibration, and then the idea in the mind of the Atom, together with the light and sound produce a thought in the mind of the thinker. When the thought is given a voice, the vibration of the sound, together with all the other elements the thought holds within it, moves upon the elements in the air, water, and the earth, gathering them together in order to create a form around itself. It is then an earthly “seed” (cell) with a name.

The kind of form the Atom creates is entirely his choice. The Atom uses the magnetic force within himself and the Mind of Infinite Wisdom, and by working together in the magnetic field around him he draws to himself the kind and number of elements needed to create the form held within his “idea.” He creates every form for his own pleasure and purpose. He alone is the “man” who gets pleasure from his relationship with his forms (wives), and he will not share his “bodily form” with another man (atom). He will hire other atoms (men) to work and labor in his magnetic field (environment) -- in whatever way he may need or desire their help -- but they are all servants and hired help. They are not born in his house and they do not live in his house.

While the workers (servants and hired help) are busy and the work is being done in the fields, forests, orchards, waters, air, and the mineral mines -- gathering materials together to build a house for the bride that he is betrothed to -- the bridegroom uses bondwomen, concubines, and harlots to father his earthly children, but he does not marry any of these women because none of them are equal to him. The fathers of these women are of earthly and mortal type of matter, and their lives are short-lived as are their children’s lives, because the earthly women carry in their flesh matter the mortal nature of their fathers. The children of the bondwomen, concubines, and harlots are double minded because they have the nature of the Heavenly Man (Atom) and the nature of the father of their mother (the earthly, mortal man of the senses) in them.

At the time of the ancient of days (which we have now entered), when the house is nearing the end of the completing of the building of it, the Lord of the house will call his servants together and at the end of their last work day he will pay them what he promised when he hired them. The very last part of the house to be built and finished, however, will be accomplished by the Bridegroom himself. At the end, when the house is “perfect” as he is “perfect,” he will present the house (a living bodily form) to himself. The bodily form is his bride, and she is made in his exact likeness. Therefore she is his equal in every way. After the wedding is over and they have consummated the marriage, they will produce enough children to fill the whole house.

The father and mother and all of their sons and daughters are all ONE “kind.” They all live in the same house (one body). The children of the married wife work in their father’s kingdom, just as his servants did in the past. They come into the house at evening time, where they are taught by their mother to honor their father’s will. Daily they go out in the field to work. They go where their father sends them and they always accomplish the work he sends them to do. They never return to the father's house with their hands empty.

These "children" are the bodily forms of tiny Beings of Light who work the work of Spirit by Wisdom and Truth according to the Father's will. They are the angels of the Lord and they are the apple (fruit) of their Father's eye (idea).

The children of the married wife are the children of the day; they are "light" workers. The servants and hired help were the people of the "night" who were born of and ruled by the lesser light, the god of this world -- the law of sin and death. The bondwomen, concubines, and harlots and all of their children have all died before the Heavenly Man marries and fathers other children.

The light that rules the children of the night is the light and consciousness of the mind of man that he has gained by the works of the law of his five senses, using the faculties of reason and logic as his authority. The children of the day are the children of the Holy Father Above, and they do their work by the Light of the Day Star who is called Christ (God).

When mankind first began to awaken in his human body, his light of mind could be compared to the light of the moon in the beginning stages of the first quarter. As his senses develop, his light of mind increases, until at the full age of his earthly potential his very brightest light of mind can be compared to a full moon on a clear night. A man who is fully enlightened by the works of the carnal law of his five mortal senses can be compared to one such as John the Baptist or Einstein. These two are one and the same Atom (Spirit) during two different lifetimes. In the beginning stages of the awakening of the children of the Day Star, however, their light of mind can be compared to the rising of the sun on a clear day, with the light increasing until it reaches twelve o'clock noontime.

The comparison above reveals the vast difference between a fully developed son-of-man and a Son-of-God, in terms of their knowledge, wisdom, and ability. Everyone who reaches the "full moon" stage in light and consciousness of mind is a candidate to be "begotten again unto a lively hope" -- and become as the light of a noontime sun -- a SON (SUN) OF WISDOM (GOD).

There are three laws that work together as ONE Law in the creation of life forms, whether they are animate or inanimate forms: the law of Spirit (Fire / Life) and Wisdom (which is Infinite Mind Matter); the law of science and physics; and the law of magnetism. Like attracts like -- and the magnetic force in the magnetic field where all things live, move, and have being works between the light of the Atom and through his thought vibration to draw the needed earthly elements together in order to create the form.

The "will" of the Atom is inherent in the activity of the mind and in the consciousness of the idea and thought. The magnetic Life Force in the "field" around the Atom draws all of the components together that are needed to give form to the idea and thought (which are one). The Mind of Wisdom (Cosmic Mind) knows the "will" inherent in the "idea" and acts without taking thought. To her, the idea (Father) and the thought (Son) are one-Light and one-Life. The "thought" is a spiritual seed, but there is no seed -- then time -- and then harvest in the Kingdom of God. There is only the will of the Father. The idea and the thought of mind is the will of the Father, and these three are ONE. This is the Father, Son, and Holy Ghost -- the Fire, Light, and Consciousness of Mind (Mind Matter) all working together as one.

One need only "say" what the "will" is that is in the "idea," and he shall have whatsoever he will say. In this manner one is "instant in season (spirit) and out of season (body)." With God there is no time but NOW, and there is no "salt" (seasons or seasoning) needed to delay or preserve his creations.

To sum it all up concerning creation of form: Anti-Matter is fire. Matter is water. Fire is the Life of the matter. But if there were only “Fire and water” (Life and flesh), there could still be no form, because the Fire would consume the “matter” (water / flesh). Fire is Pure, Intelligent Life without matter, light, or sound (vibration). The Fire of Life lays dormant in the stillness of the night when left alone to itself. Fire is the Substance of Life and it is Anti-Matter.

Light is the consciousness of one’s mind. Without light and consciousness there could be no form. Light, consciousness, and mind are ONE. These three cannot be separated or divided, the one from the other. The “ONE LIGHT” is in the Fire (Father), and they are both (the Fire and the Light) in the Mind Matter (Mother). The Light is also between the Fire (Father) and the Mind Matter (Mother).

The Light of Life is the sun’s ray. The Fire is the Father of the ray. The sun’s Light Ray, the Fire, and the Mind Matter are one sun (Son) of Wisdom (God).

If there were no light, there could be no life form, therefore there could be no outer expression of Intelligent Life. One who is filled with the fullness of “Light” (Consciousness of Mind) is also filled with the Fire of Life. There can be no form of either Light or Life if there were no Mind Matter (water-Wisdom-God,) and these three are ONE. Light, mind and consciousness are ONE. The Fire, the Light, and the Mind Matter are ONE LIFE.

The Fire (Father), Light (Son), and Consciousness (the Holy Ghost, who is the Wisdom of Mind, God, and the Mother of us all) are “ONE.” The last member to be fully manifested within a fully mature and perfected bodily form (that is made of the Substance of Cosmic Mind Matter) is a fully enlightened Mind. When the mind is “filled” and running over with the fullness of the Spirit, the Life, and the Light of the Living Waters, the “overflow” fills the bodily forms from the “Cup of Blessings.” After being filled with the Living Water, the bodily forms are then solidified by the Fire of Life. Then the one-body and one-Mind are forever joined. The Father / Mother God and the Son are ONE.
